

Security Benefit Derivatives Team Awarded “Insurance Risk Management Team of the Year” by EQDerivatives, Inc.

Topeka, KS – March 21, 2018 – Security Benefit, a leader in the U.S. retirement savings market, today announced that it earned the EQDerivatives 2018 “Insurance Risk Management Team of the Year” award for its risk management program for its fixed indexed annuity products.

EQDerivatives award winners are determined by a combination of market surveys, peer assessments and a qualitative assessment of the nominees’ capabilities. Security Benefit was recognized for its standout performance in the Insurance Risk Management category in 2017.

“We’re honored to be recognized by EQDerivatives for our team’s dedication and excellent work over the course of 2017,” said Phon Vilayoune, who leads Security Benefit’s derivatives team, which manages $16 billion in derivatives assets as of December 31, 2017.

“Security Benefit’s commitment to customers starts with the investment team and permeates throughout the organization, extending to our network of independent financial representatives,” said Joseph Wittrock, CFA, Chief Investment Officer of Security Benefit. “The work of Phon and his team is integral to our mission of helping our clients to and through retirement, and we’re honored that the team’s outstanding work is being recognized.”
