

How current is the account information viewed in the App?

Individuals

Generally, our system is updated to reflect new account information each business day by 11:00 p.m. (Eastern time). Your account balance will reflect this updated information. Any transactions requested during the current business day are processed overnight and will be reflected the next business day.